

Cashmere Sweater, $128 V-neck pullover is made of soft, 100% cashmere, with long sleeves and ribbed cuffs and waistband. In heather gray or cinnabar red. Half the profits from Gap (PRODUCT) RED™ styles go to support the Global Fund's fight against AIDS. WHERE TO BUY: gap.com

Figura Backpack/Computer Case $150 Designed in Italy, this padded black nylon carrier can be held by the handles or worn as a backpack. It fits up to a 17" laptop. Supporting SFMOMA's groovy gift store helps keep the museum in the black. WHERE TO BUY: 151 Third Street, sfmomastores.yahoo.net

Messenger Bag, $22.99 Graced with a likeness of Animal Place resident Howie, this bag has an inside pocket, a front zipper compartment, and an adjustable shoulder strap. The nonprofit Animal Place, in Vacaville, serves as a sanctuary for abused and discarded pigs, goats, sheep, rabbits, chickens, and other farm animals. Through outreach and education, it advocates on behalf of animals in agriculture. WHERE TO BUY: animalplace.org

Bubble Necklace $245 San Francisco designer Susan Kinzig creates these striking pieces of sterling silver and inlay. Another great excuse to shop at the SFMOMA store. WHERE TO BUY: 151 Third Street, sfmoma.stores.yahoo.net

Hirokō Kurihara Scarf

Handcrafted locally from ecologically certified virgin wool. For every purchase, local artist Kurihara's company donates a scarf or blanket made of recycled polar fleece to a homeless shelter. WHERE TO BUY: MAC, 387 Grove Street, 415-863-3011 or hirokokurihara.com for other locations.

SF 49ers "Respect Charity" Hat, $20 Cotton cap has an embroidered team logo on the front and a "Respect" graphic on the back. Adjustable Velcro closure. 100 percent of the proceeds go to the 49ers Foundation, which supports programs for underserved youth. WHERE TO BUY: shop49ers.com

Cartier Love Charity Bracelet, $475 Riffing off its "Love" line of jewelry, Cartier has created this rose gold miniature version on a silk cord. $100 from each purchase is donated to either a celebrity-endorsed charity, or one of three Bay Area health-related organizations, denoted by the color of the cord. Rosario Dawson, interviewed in these pages in the September/October issue, has the red band, and supports Youth AIDS. WHERE TO BUY: 231 Post Street.

for the inquiring mind

Science Class for Kids, $30

For preschoolers to 12-year-olds, select a 2-hour class that explores a special topic in science. With its hundreds of science, art, and human perception exhibits, the innovative Exploratorium is a leader in the movement to promote museums as informal education centers. WHERE TO BUY: exploratorium.edu

KQED Membership, $40

Membership brings discounts to restaurants, stores, and performances around the Bay Area. Plus a guided tour of the studios, and a monthly program guide. High-quality, commercial-free television, radio, and internet content that informs and entertains. Keep those Car Talk guys in business. WHERE TO BUY: kqed.org

Mega Bubbles, $22.30

Kit makes bubbles like no other. For ages 3+. Yet another way to support the incomparable Exploratorium WHERE TO BUY: exploratoriumstore.com

(for the fashionista)

Blokus, $29.95 Logic and spatial perception skills are brought to bear as players take turns placing pieces that touch another piece of the same color—but only at the corner. Ages 5–adult. Support the Exploratorium in its mission to make science accessible and, above all, fun. WHERE TO BUY: exploratoriumstore.com

Chabot Space & Science Center Membership, $55 Free admission, discounts at the gift store and Space Explorers summer camp. The Center makes the universe accessible, with a planetarium, observatory, Challenger Learning Center, and special programs for teachers and students. WHERE TO BUY: chabot.space.org

Carved Chess Set, $145 Limited edition set is hand-carved of soapstone in Vietnam. Ten Thousand Villages, a founding member of the International Fair Trade Association, works with artisans around the world, with a focus on ethnic minorities, street children, and people with disabilities. WHERE TO BUY: tenthousandvillages.com